than just outward obedience. Through the application of, and participation in, the sacramental act

Wesley believed that grace could be received. Hence, Wesley looked upon Baptism as: "An outward and visible sign of an Inward and spiritual grace."

The means of grace are the outward methods by which we receive saving grace; cf. WLC 153, WSC 85. They are related to the means of sanctification. The means of grace which are specifically related to the church are the word of God, prayer, and the sacraments.
